

THE ADVENTURES OF BUCKETMAN

<http://www.public.navy.mil/comnavsafecen/>

Bucketman's Infancy

Easy clean-up,
plus diapers are optional during rides.

Bucketman Enlists

Sailor ingenuity: A bucket for each foot, and you can walk around with them!

Bucketman's Debut in the Photo of the Week

- ▶ Person who submitted it said this painter could work his way all around the room
- ▶ Didn't explain how he got up on the stack

South of the Border

Central America

Venezuela

Bucketman Makes the Cover

Oops, didn't realize it was a secret! We've been giving him as much publicity as we can.

New Heights

Bucketman acquires a helper, does a job at an airport, and still has to ignore the “Not-A-Step” provision.

Building a Scaffold

You don't have to stand on a bucket—you can stand on something supported by the bucket.

Bucketman's Brother

Same job site,
two incarnations.

Another Trifecta

The question remains:
How does he get up on top of that third bucket?

Which End Is Up?

Bucketman demonstrates his ingenuity and versatility for the foreman.

Bucketman Turns to Crime

An Australian 19-year-old broke into a locked bakery storeroom (via a skylight) and then couldn't get out. Security video showed him stacking and toppling off buckets several times.

Background: Naval Safety Center “Photo of the Week”

- ▶ Photos of people doing something stupid, wrong and/or hazardous
- ▶ Always in web site’s Top 5 most popular pages

#555: Bucketman’s Back—and He Brought His Brother!

Our contributor snapped the photos at one of his job sites (an addition on an elementary school). “Different companies, different trades, same creative elevation technique,” he wrote. Well, slightly different: One bucket was upside down. The lack of risk management, however, is identical.

<< Previous | Next >>

Visit the Photo of the Week archives

www.public.navy.mil/navsafecen

